Navy Shells Former U.S. Isle In Invasion

By CHARLES H. McMURTRY

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, July 21.—United States Marines and infantry are pouring ashore on Guam, first American territory seized by the Japanese, and fighting their way inland under cover of a pulverizing aerial and warship bombardment, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today.

The landings, a quick follow-up to the great victory on Saipan, started yesterday morning, and "are continuing against moderate ground opposition," Nimitz' communique said.

"United States Marines and Army assault troops established beachheads on Guam island on July 20 (West longitude—U. S. time) with the support of carrier aircraft and surface combat units of the Fifth fleet," the early-morning communique continued.

"Enemy defenses are being heavily bombed and shelled at close range."

Guam is the southernmost and largest of the Marianas group of islands. In American hands it will greatly strengthen Saipan's position as a base from which Japan can be mortally assaulted. Guam is 130 miles southwest of Saipan and both islands are within easy Superfortress range of Tokyo and the whole of Japan.

The Philippines, lying some 1,500 miles west of Guam and Saipan, likewise are vulnerable to the mighty forces Nimitz is hurling across the Pacific.

The Guam landings came after 17 days of the most terrific warship-shipplane blasting given any invaded Pacific island, with battleships adding their heavy shells to the torrent of explosives poured from cruisers, destroyers and planes.

Guam, seized Dec. 10, 1941—two days after Pearl Harbor (Dec. 8, East longitude time)—presumably will offer the same bitter, bloody resistance the marines and army troops encountered on Saipan in 25 days of fighting. It was believed the Guam garrison was as strong as Saipan's, which consisted of more than 20,000 troops on D-day, June 14. The Americans had to kill 95 per cent of that force before gaining victory.

A fleet spokesman said: "All landings were effected in all areas as programmed." This suggested the landings were not as difficult as at Saipan, where Marines died on the reef-girt beaches.

But in the interior the Americans will encounter the same hills, caves and crevices which gave Saipan's defenders a tremendous edge over the attackers.

Guam, 32 miles long and four to 10 miles wide, was overrun by 8,000 Japanese troops who stormed ashore against 200 marines in the early days of the war.

The island has one of the Pacific's finest harbors, Apra, and formerly served as a way-station on the trans-Pacific air route to the east.

TURKS READY TO JOIN ALLIED CAMP

LONDON, July 21.—Signs increased today that Turkey soon may swing from her tenderly-balanced neutral position to a possible declaration of war against the Axis.

One such indication was a broadcast by the German-controlled Vichy radio that all Turkish ships had been ordered into Turkish harbors without delay, and that all navigation in Turkish waters of the Black sea had been suspended.

There was a growing belief in London that Turkey may attempt to improve her position at the Allied peace table by handing Axis diplomats their walking papers.

Earlier in the war, Turkey declined to become a belligerent on the Allied side despite delivery of millions of dollars worth of Allied supplies.

Mullins Profit For Year To Date Shown

The Mullins Manufacturing Corp. with plants in Salem and Warren, had a net profit of $591,547 the first six months this year against $296,421 for the same period last year, the company's report, issued today, shows.

Earnings equal 90 cents on each of the 546,050 common shares after providing preferred dividends, against 36 cents last year.

Net sales were $19,733,938 compared with $8,467,138 last year. Federal tax provisions were increased from $598,828 to $1,494,131.

President Accepts Nomination, Warns Against Change In Office

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 21.—President Roosevelt chose the dramatic setting of a bustling wartime naval base to fire his first shot in quest of a fourth term, an "obligation" he said he felt in order to bring about his plans for battle triumph, postwar prosperity and security against another global explosion.

The three-time president again turned to the unusual for his acceptance of the Democratic nomination.

From a Pacific coast base his voice came by radio to the jam-packed Chicago stadium last night, impelling the thousands who ordinarily would have whistled and shouted at every good catch-phrase to sit in hushed silence, lest they lose a word.

Mr. Roosevelt insisted he will not campaign "in the usual sense" because he doesn't think it is appropriate and moreover, he said, he doesn't have the time.

As in 1940, Mr. Roosevelt said he would like to retire to private life; again as in 1940 he said new hands would take over when this time he said is based "solely on a sense of obligation to serve" if the people so decide in November.

Between himself and Republican Thomas E. Dewey (to whom he did not refer personally) the President said the issue this time is simply: Whether the nation will "turn over this 1944 job—this worldwide job—to inexperienced and immature hands, to those who opposed lend-lease and international cooperation against the forces of aggression and tyranny until they could real

DRIVER OF STOLEN CAR IN ACCIDENT

A car reported stolen, Trevor Lewis of R. D. 2, Salem, from the rear of the Sears-Roebuck store at 5:15 p. m. yesterday, was involved in a head-on collision 10 minutes later with a machine driven by George Buta of 503 Walnut st. at the intersection of Franklin st. and S. Ellsworth ave. Both cars were damaged.

When Buta returned from phoning police he found the driver of the stolen vehicle, a soldier, had gone but his hat was still in the car. Buta described the driver as blond, about 5 feet 8 inches tall, weighing approximately 175 pounds. Police have not yet traced the soldier.

Wallace, Truman Forces Vie For Vice President Laurels

BULLETIN
CHICAGO STADIUM, July 21.—Henry A. Wallace broke into the stranglehold of the big city vote today by capturing the support of about 20 of New York's 96 votes in a furious battle in which the bulk of the Empire state's votes were promised to Sen. Harry S. Truman of Missouri for the Democratic vice-presidential nomination.

BY JACK BELL
CHICAGO STADIUM, July 21.—Henry A. Wallace matched a CIO-wielded vote block against Sen. Harry Truman's big town and southern backing today in a climactic battle for the Democratic vice-presidential nomination.

President Roosevelt gave the struggle new campaign importance by calling global warfare—not politics—his main business between now and November.

Renominated noisily and overwhelmingly by a packed convention that boomed the mention of opposing candidates, the President told his Democratic followers and the world at large by radio last night that he will not run for office in the usual political sense.

"In these days of tragic sorrow, I do not consider it fitting," the President's voice rolled out over the loud speakers.

"Besides," the familiar voice continued, "in these days of global warfare I shall not be able to find the time. I shall, however, feel free to report to the people the facts about matters of concern to them, and especially to correct any misrepresentations."

In his acceptance, which was broadcast from "a Pacific naval base," Mr. Roosevelt predicted that another four years will find the world at permanent peace, adding:

Recall Similar Remark
"New hands will then have full opportunity to realize the ideals which we seek." Some of his listeners recalled that during his third campaign Mr. Roosevelt remarked that there would be a new president at the end of this term.

American entry into a postwar organization with military power to keep the peace was envisioned by Mr. Roosevelt, as well as a domestic economy which would provide "employment and decent standards of living for all Americans."

Report German Troops Revolt In East Prussia

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 21.—Two German divisions were reported today to have revolted in Russian-besieged East Prussia and a full-blown purge of generals apparently was proceeding in Germany as an aftermath to what Adolf Hitler called a traitorous attempt to assassinate him and pave the way for surrender.

With broken communications masking what perhaps was civil war and mutiny within the Reich, the Berlin radio announced that Col. Gen. Ludwig Beck, former chief of the German general staff was "no longer among living persons." He presumably was shot in the fiery vengeance Hitler was venting upon his own people.

At the same time a traveler reaching Sweden said two German divisions revolted in East Prussia Wednesday, apparently touching off the movement which culminated in the attack on Hitler, declared by Berlin to have occurred Thursday.

Besides Beck, Berlin announced execution of a whole group of conspirators linked with the plot to overthrow the Fuehrer and prepare the path for peace in the defeat-riddled and bomb-tortured Reich.

Among them was the colonel who was alleged to have planted a bomb which exploded only a little over six feet from Hitler while he was surrounded by his highest personal military aides.

Deputy Press Chief Sunderman declared in connection with Beck's demise that there was "proof that a connection was established with an enemy power," Berlin broadcasts said.

Beck was removed as chief of the general staff in November, 1938, because, Berlin dispatches stated at the time, "he failed to see eye to eye with Hitler."

He was reported to have disagreed with the Fuehrer's plans to seize Austria and Czechoslovakia.

Field Marshal Gen. Karl Rudolf Gerd von Rundstedt was removed as commander of an army group at the same time. Von Rundstedt, restored to favor in the war, was removed from his command in western Europe only a few days ago.

Stockholm newspapers were cut off from their Berlin correspondents at 8:40 p. m. last night, and communications still were blocked today. Other sources of neutral information from inside Germany likewise were blocked.

The world therefore was restricted largely to the view put forth by Berlin and other German-controlled broadcasts.

While these sought to give the picture of a completely normal Germany, with the plot scotched, other bits of information indicated the revolt still was on.

Allied propagandists bombarded the Reich with broadcasts urging the Germans to deal the death blow to the Hitler regime.

London quarters said there now was convincing evidence to support recent rumors of increasing dissatisfaction with Hitler's authority and that opposition to Nazism apparently had been organized under responsible leadership.

London Is Skeptical
In London doubt persisted that the Germans had given anywhere nearly a full account—and there was considerable doubt that even a bonafide attempt was made on Hitler's life.

The possibility was not overlooked that the whole thing was a deliberately staged to give the Hitlerman an excuse for a full-scale purge of Junkers generals before they could really get their movement in motion.

Speeches by Hitler, Reichsmarschal Goering and Admiral Karl Doenitz, commander of the German navy, berating traitorous generals were the surest signs of revolt, even if abortive, within the Reich.

The question was whether it would be snowballed or crushed by the purge. There was a possibility it might grow as the militarists sought to save themselves by resisting the Gestapo.

It was felt here that Nazis had two choices—to try to hush up the incident or to twist the facts into propaganda and create an emotional story on the home front. The fact that the latter course was chosen suggested a revolt of such dimensions that it could not be concealed.

Nazi leaders made fervent efforts to rally the home front.

Gen. Nikolaus von Valkenhorst, commander-in-chief in Norway, issued an order of the day to his troops expressing gratitude for Hitler's escape and pledging to "follow him until victory is won."

Significantly, none of the top-drawer Junkers, headed by the deposed Field Marshal Karl Rudolf Gerd von Rundstedt, had yet been heard from.

Himmler, whose reputation as a

THE TIME: 12 YEARS LATER

One of the best party platforms ever hammered together was adopted by the Democratic convention in 1932. It makes an interesting relic in 1944.

In 1932, the Democrats could see clearly what was wrong with this country. It needed immediate and drastic reduction of government spending—at least a 25 percent cut. It needed an annually balanced budget based on accurate executive estimates within revenues raised by a system of taxation levied on the principle of ability to pay. Federal credit should be extended to the states to provide unemployment relief. Army-navy expenditures should be held to less than a billion a year. The Philippines should be given their independence. Pressure lobbies in Washington should be eliminated, and the Democrats condemned "improper and excessive use of money in political activities." They also condemned "the open and covert resistance of administrative officials to every effort made by congressional committees to curtail the extravagant expenditures of the government." The party also stood for a number of other things in 1932 but in 1944 it is helpful to remember that so many of its main talking points 12 years ago have been abandoned.

Party responsibility for 12 years has left its mark on the Democrats. If it were not for the tremendous distraction of the war, their situation would be strikingly like that of the Republicans in 1932, after they had been in power 12 years. Within the party they stood divided between extremists. Conservatives contended with "the sons of the wild jackass" for the voting support of the party's moderates. The party had trimmed and warped itself to try to accommodate points of views as dissimilar as those held inside the Democratic party today by the Jeffersonians and the New York City Communists.

It had ceased to be a party and had become, instead, a group. At the same time, the Democrats, who had been only a loose coalition, were able to coalesce into a party because in 1932 they could agree on opposition to the way things had been going. The situation is reversed in 1944—the Democrats again have become a group, with no beliefs in common, and the Republicans now are able to agree on points of opposition. It is beginning to look as if 12 years might be the cycle from resolution to irresolution in party politics.

THE SQUEEZE

If German military sources know an offensive when they see one, the Allied squeeze on German military power has begun.

The obvious signs are the spreading Russian offensive, the vigorous drives at both ends of the western front in Normandy and a quickening of the tempo in Italy. Allied air power has asserted itself in strength again, after an involuntary recession caused by weather.

Objective of squeeze strategy is to induce a disintegration at one point at least of the area under pressure. That point seems most likely to be somewhere on the eastern front, where the Russians have not only a tremendous weight of power, but also the room for its effectual deployment.

It is not impossible, however, that the break might occur somewhere else—might even occur somewhere not being watched at present, such as southern France where the threat of a new invasion from the Mediterranean still exists.

It is doing no injustice to the Russians to hope that somewhere in France before Germany capitulates there may be a full-dress exhibition of the power developed by the United States and Great Britain since 1940, to erase the impression of the German blitzkrieg. The Germans were good, but Frenchmen should have a chance to see that their own allies in the war have proved to be better.

LET 'EM KNOCK

The octane cut in gasoline, which had a pre-war average of from 74 to 76 in octane rating, then dropped to 72 and now is going to go to 70, is for the purpose of squeezing more high-octane aviation gas out of the petroleum supply. But the reason for the aviation gas is so much more important to automobile users than the octane cut that it should be given nationwide publicity.

Airplane losses in Europe are less than they were expected to be. More flying is being done day by day than was foreseen. More American boys are alive. Fewer of them are landing in German prison camps and hospitals. They need more gasoline, consequently, than the planners thought was going to be needed. The extra supply is expected to come out of the motorists' quota—not out of the quantity, but the quality.

There will be some extra knocks in the engine, but even the wise guys who still insist that gas rationing is only a scheme to persecute them may have to admit that for once a rationing cloud has a silver lining.

THE STARS SAY:

For Saturday, July 22.

CONTINUED opportunities of great significance and of the highest objectives are seen in this day's stellar operations. It is a moment for attacking the dearest hopes and wishes with confidence and assurance, but with all the skill, initiative and enterprise at command. This should bring attention from influential sources, fulfilling the promise of enhanced prestige, financial expansion, business responsibility and many emoluments, pleasures and honors of a purely social or personal value. Seek these with all resources, but be prudent, reasonable and not tempted by indulgences or emotional impulses. Conserve health.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of splendid achievements with rich fulfillments in whatever field of adventure and attainment the aspirations and ambitions may lead. There is expansion, production, financial and business security, with high personal popularity and prestige, in social, professional and cultural lines. Much pleasure and gratification depend on a prudent, reasonable and calculated use of all resources and endowments. Care for health as well.

A child born on this day should be excellently equipped for high success and honors in life, having many resources.

The Voter's Right

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Probably never before have the good people of the land taken so seriously that old gag line: "Write your congressman."

The mere fact that Congress is taking a holiday in order to get in a little campaigning doesn't seem to make much difference either. Those skeleton office staffs plugging away on the Hill these hot summer days are piling up enough unfinished business out of the daily mail bags to last most of the members all winter.

Take the mail piled up by Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski (R., Wis.), a freshman. You would hardly think he had time to get acquainted with his constituents, much less establish himself on a you-write-me-and-I'll-write-you basis.

However, in 18 months, O'Konski has received more than 16,000 letters, telegrams and postcards, and personally has taken care of more than 15,000 of them.

As a matter of fact, Mr. O'Konski takes pride in the fact that he personally answers even the postcards. If he develops into an Andy May, Robert L. Doughton, Martin Dies or any of the other congressmen whose jobs in the house often place them on a hot spot, that's one little source of pride Mr. O'Konski will have to forego. The mail they receive frequently gets completely out of hand.

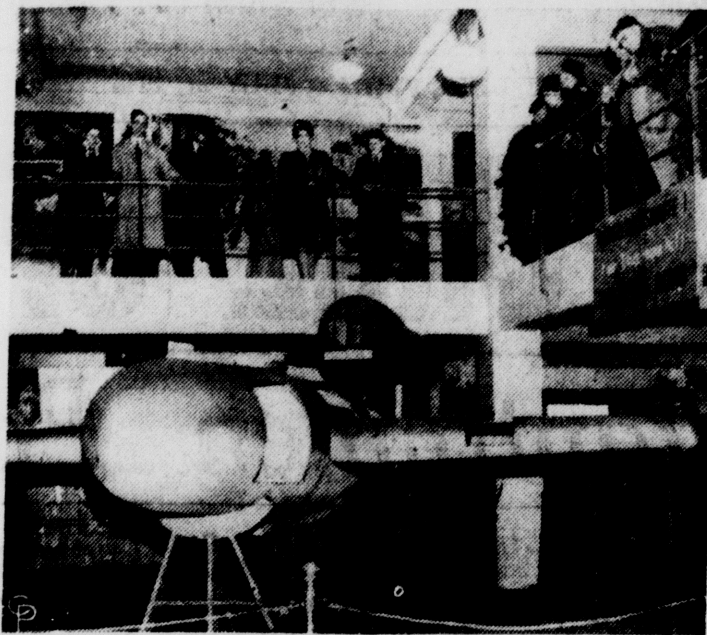

About 90 per cent of every congressman's mail is of the will-you-please-do-this variety (sometimes without the please). The rest of it, even among the quiet, inoffensive legislators, is crank mail. Much of this type of mail doesn't deserve an answer but most of it gets one at least from O'Konski.

Asked if he had any do's or don'ts for folk who wrote their congressmen, he said there was only one don't; namely, don't write your congressman about affairs at home with which the federal government has nothing to do.

Much of the congressman's mail today, he says, has to do with veterans' claims and rehabilitation and because he has worked on so many of them, he's becoming quite an expert. In fact, that's how a lot of members of Congress become experts in affairs that most interest their districts or states—running errands for the folks back home.

Alvin Edward O'Konski does have a little edge on some of the congressmen when it comes to drawing in the mail. He's one who joined the Journalism school as a means of keeping in touch with constituents. O'Konski gets off a weekly piece for the papers in his tenth Wisconsin district.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

The Eyes and Their Care

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
"FILLING A long felt want" is apt to be an empty phrase when applied to a book. There are books about everything and few wants along those lines remain to be filled. But it does apply to a new book Your Eyes by Dr. Sidney A. Fox (published by A. A. Knopf, Inc., New York). "My patients literally forced me to write this book," says the author. "They were constantly asking me questions and wanting to know where to read up about their eyes. Surprisingly I could find no single book to recommend which gave simply and not too dryly what the layman needs to know about his eyesight so I wrote my own."

Dr. Clendenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

He did a very good job. The book is a quite comprehensive, clearly stated account of every phase of the modern knowledge of the eye. The subject is well suited to be put between the covers of a single small book, because no other branch of medicine is quite as scientific, quite as capable of being presented plainly, positively and succinctly.

The chapter titles give an idea of the topics covered. "How We See," "Why We Do Not See Well," "Old Sight," "Eyeglasses," "Our Colored World," "The Eye Muscles," "Light by Man," "The Eye in Traffic," "Hygiene and First Aid," "The Young Eye," "The Adult Eye."

Corneal Transplant
I would not spoil the readers pleasure by abstracting any of these.

I was interested in reading one topic about which I have not been able to get much satisfactory and conservative information, and this is the success of grafting corneas on opaque eyes. I have seen, as everyone has, somewhat sensational accounts and pictures in the current magazine press, but I haven't been able to contact any oculists who have performed the operation or who even know about it authoritatively.

On first thought it seems to violate one of the fundamental principles of surgery which is—"No graft except an autograft will live." That is, you cannot make a skin graft live unless the skin is taken from another part of the body of the same person who needs the graft. But then in reply to this the thought occurs that the cornea is almost a completely non-vascular structure and may for that reason not come within the rule.

Description of Operation
Here is what Dr. Fox says about it:

"We must say a few words about the corneal transplant. This is the operation by which a small window is cut in an opaque cornea and replaced by a piece of clear cornea. In the past few years nothing about the eye, with the possible exception of the contact lens, has received more publicity. And nothing has raised more false hopes. It should be known that this operation is on the cornea only. It can be performed only in those cases where the cornea, by reason of injury or disease, has lost its transparency or its regularity, so that vision is impaired. It can be successful only in those eyes that are healthy cornea for an unclear cornea. Obviously there is no earthly use in giving the eye a clear window if there is something else inside the eye that prevents it from seeing. And even under the best circumstances the new corneal window may become opaque again. Why, we do not know.

"The corneal transplant operation is an incalculably important advance in eye surgery. It is the result of many years of experimentation and research. It has restored vision to many eyes that would otherwise be blind. The widespread notion that with this operation an entire diseased eye can be removed and a new one put in its place is wrong."

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendenning has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cent in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendenning, 235 E. 45th st., New York. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

FOOD PICTURE IN NATION BRIGHTER

WASHINGTON, July 21. — The food picture is so much improved over last year "it ceases to be news," War Food Administrator Marvin Jones said today.

The man charged with responsibility not only for production of all food in the United States but in allocating it via the OPA to the ultimate consumer, says, however, the "food problem" is a continuing one and there must be no letup along the production line.

Jones said in an interview he believes the present "abundance of food" was the "only reason President Roosevelt's 'hold the line' policy was not smashed."

Take "Bows" After Speeches At Dem Conclave

Stop Awhile-- And Smile

IT TAKES TIME TO EAT UP PROFITS
BROOKFIELD, Mo. — Billy, the Brookfield Argus' assistant collector, was explaining to the newspaper's circulation manager why it took him so long to make a collection at the home of one subscriber:
"She had only a nickel and couldn't pay her paper bill. But she had a swell chocolate pie fresh from the oven. I bought a piece of the pie for 10 cents and then she had 15 cents to pay me."
"Of course I had to eat the pie and that took a little time."

PORK AND BEANS— UNRATTONED, TOO
FORT COLLINS, Colo. — Even hogs relish a piping hot dish of baked beans. Experimenting with pulled and split pinto beans, the Colorado State college experiment station found that hogs won't eat them raw but like them when they are cooked. The beans would be thrown away as unfit for human consumption.

A LITTLE OF THIS GOES A LONG WAY
SAN JOSE, Calif. — On April 4, 1943, John Albert of Agnew dropped a bottle containing a message into Coyote creek. Recently he received a letter from Sgt. Chris Trull saying he had picked up the bottle off the shores of India.

TOUGH CENSOR
BOISE, Idaho — Gov. C. A. Bolin received a letter from a former fellow-townsmen now stationed in Iran. It began: "Some- where in Iran, Dear Friend Bolt." That's where it ended, too.

NO WRITER'S CRAMP? ...
SAN DIEGO — Officials here think Kate Marcellus, court reporter, has hung up a record. In 31 years of court reporting, she's taken down 133,152,000 words.

PUTTING WHETHER INTO THE WEATHER
RED BLUFF, Calif. — Weather reports from Digger butte lookout were held up temporarily when workers couldn't find the fuel moisture stick, used to judge the amount of moisture in the ground cover. Badly gnawed, the stick was found after an all-day hunt. It had been carried off by a bold porcupine.

MAYBE IT WAS JUST BOWLEGGED PANTS
NORMAN, Okla. — Dr. Carl C. Ruter, historian of the pioneer west, says bowlegs weren't a trademark of the old-time cowboy. "You wouldn't find any more curved legs in a group of cowboys than in any other group," he says.

IT OUGHTA BE AN IGLOO
CAMP LIVINGSTON, La. — Sgt. Snow and Pvt. Blizard live in the same hut in C battery, 564th AAA. AW battalion, here.

Jap's Yap Island, Small But Vital Base In Western Pacific, Is Mother of Typhoons

By RAY CRONIN, Associated Press War Editor
Japan's Yap island, in the Western Pacific, looks small and unimportant on a fair sized map of that vast ocean. As a naval or military base Yap most likely is not worth a major fight. Yet Uncle Sam may be forced by weather considerations to take Yap before moving large naval or army forces into the Philippines, Formosa, southern Japan or the China coast.

Yap is the mother of Pacific typhoons, the intense widespread swirling storms that carry a threat of destruction to ships at sea and installations ashore.

In the general Yap region, about nine and one-half degrees north of the equator, most Pacific typhoons are born. Yap is the warning point that a typhoon is headed westward or northward. Such warnings have saved hundreds of ships and thousands of lives ashore as seamen and landmen, forewarned, had time to prepare for the fury of winds that have reached 100 miles an hour. Yap is really four small islands 20 miles long north and south by 10 miles wide. The islands are separated by narrow channels. They are mountainous and well forested.

Manila, in the Philippines, is 1,150 miles northwest of Yap. Palau island is 300 miles southwest. American-occupied Saipan is 550 miles northeast and Davao, in the southern Philippines, 850 miles west by south.

Continues Through November
The typhoon season usually hits in July and continues through November—the period of the southwest monsoons. The season, however, has been known to last until late December.

In their early phase, the typhoons sweep westward across Mindanao island in the Philippines. As the season advances they curve northward and then later they roar almost directly north into Japan.

Usually the storms follow a pattern but they have been known to sweep westward into the China sea, then curve back eastward into the Pacific. One such typhoon caused heavy damage to the United States Asiatic fleet in the early 1930s. Another, in 1937, hit the Manila area with such fury that many people were killed and the damage ran into millions.

The Japanese gained control of Yap as a mandate after World war 1. It was a cable and radio center of great importance to the U.S. In 1921 a Japanese-American treaty gave the U. S. equal cable rights on the islands.

Closed By Japs In 1935
When Japan left the League of Nations in 1935 she closed Yap to all non-Nipponese. So, little is known as to just what the Japanese have accomplished there in a military sense. We do know that Yap has an airfield because Allied Southwest Pacific planes have raided it 21 times since June 22. The attacks started as soon as Gen. Douglas MacArthur's forces moved into Dutch New Guinea air bases. The Japanese likewise have indicated the importance of Yap to them. They have sent up waves of interceptors to challenge American fighters. Fifty-three of these Nippon planes have been shot down. A half dozen Allied planes were lost in guarantee that any surface fleet, air force or land army moving westward toward the Philippines or China would have sufficient warning of typhoons to assure their comparative safety.

Vets Will Be Travelwise
DURHAM, N. H. — A post-war study committee at the University of New Hampshire has discovered that "returning servicemen will be richer in travel and experience than their professors and cannot be handled in the same way as boys and girls fresh from the family fire-side."

The National Co-operatives and The Co-Operative League of the United States have a membership of 1,500,000.

Drives Tractor At Three
HUTCHISON, Kan. — Here's a quiz-kid special! With the man-power shortage as it is, Jerry Thompson is helping his father on the Thompson farm near here by steering a tractor that pulls the hay rack. Jerry does a very well starting, stopping and guiding the tractor down the windrows, but he is not permitted to drive on roads or highways. The reason—he won't be four years old until in September. He learned to drive the tractor last winter while standing at his father's knee.

the polls of popular sentiment.... or whether they wish to leave it to those who saw the danger... who met it head-on."

The voters too will determine, he said, whether they will turn over the postwar tasks "to those who offered the veterans off the last war headlines and apple-selling."

Mr. Roosevelt lifted up his record from the early New Deal days through the pre-war worldwide jitters and down to now. He said this election will be influenced by that record "written on the seas, on the land and in the skies."

It is written also he said in the figures on war production and food output, on the international food conference, the global relief setup known as UNRRA, the Atlantic charter drawn with Churchill on the high seas and his conferences at Casablanca, at Cairo, at Moscow, at Tehran.

Mr. Roosevelt pictured his administration as one that Republicans vote for, as well as his own Democratic supporters. He even referred to a Republican president, Lincoln, as the "greatest wartime president" and quoted from his second inaugural speech in which Lincoln saw the task as one of binding the nation's wounds, caring for the soldier and his family and seeking lasting peace.

The President said it seems "wholly likely that within the next four years" the war will be won and the world will take up a "system which we hope will prevent" another conflict. That's when he said that "new hands will then have full opportunity to realize the ideals which we seek."

The President summed up the job ahead:

"First, to win the war—to win it fast, to win it overpoweringly. Second, to form worldwide international organizations and to arrange to use the armed forces of the sovereign nations to make another war impossible within the foreseeable future. Third, to build an economy for our returning veterans and for all Americans—which will provide employment and decent standards of living."

WOMEN IN THE SERVICE

Pfc. Janet L. Greeneisen of the U. S. Marine Corps Women's Reserve, who graduated with first honors from quartermaster school July 7 at Camp Lejeune, N. C., has returned to camp after spending 15 days furlough with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Greeneisen, W. State st. She will be stationed permanently in the office of freight transportation at Camp Lejeune.

WEATHER SLOWS

fighting from Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's armored units.

The deepest penetration of the German defenses took place directly east of Caen, where British Tommies by-passing troan to the north drove to within 1,000 yards of the village of Bures on the Dives river eight miles from Caen. The enemy has flooded the river to block the coastal route to the great port of Le Havre.

It was apparent that Gen. Montgomery's advance, while making gains, had failed to bring the main German army to battle.

The Supreme command stressed that no large scale encircling move had been accomplished against the German armor and that, in fact, Field Marshal Erwin Rommel had used only a few tanks in battle holding his reserves well back from the front line. Field dispatches indicated the total of prisoners taken was in the neighborhood of 2,000.

In three days the British second army has advanced an average of less than two miles a day.

Only local advances were reported today in the American sector along the western portion of the Normandy line. Close air support was curtailed by the weather.

German anti-tank screens blocked the British tank advance and infantry had to be called up to smash a way through them. The Tommies captured two of the Germans' strong points in villages and fought their way to the outskirts of three more.

REPORT GERMANS

ruthless hangman is well known even within censor-ridden Germany, got quickly to work after Hitler named him "commander of the army at home."

"This time we will settle accounts in such a manner as we national socialists are wont," shouted Hitler. The ax fell first upon the colonel named by Hitler as hurling the bomb—a Count Von Stauffenberg. Berlin announced he had been shot.

Claim Revolt Crushed

A succession of broadcasts declared the plot "had completely collapsed."

An hour and one-half after the Nazis claimed the revolt had been crushed, a broadcast purporting to come from an underground German radio called for an organized fight against Hitler's Gestapo.

Thirteen of Hitler's personal military staff were injured by the explosive—which went off within six feet of the dictator himself—and one personally an entirely unharmed apart from negligible grazes, bruises and burns, Hitler said in relating what he called "the details about a crime that has no equal in German history."

Addressing himself to "German men and women," Hitler declared that one of the seasons for his broadcast was to disprove "the assertion of these usurpers that I was no longer alive." Goering, in the same vein, accused the plotters of trying to set up a new government on the false pretense that Hitler was dead.

Thus, with German armies retreating on three fronts and the home front being blasted virtually without letup, Hitler and his inner circle threw down the gauntlet for a war to the finish.

In a broadcast recorded by the Christian Science Monitor, the secret German-language radio station "Atlantic," professedly anti-Nazi declared "revolution has burst forth in Germany" and "part of the eastern army is deserting and returning from the front."

Names New Staff Head

(CBS quoted the London radio as saying the Soviet-sponsored Free German National committee in Moscow broadcast an appeal to the German opposition this morning to "deal the death blow" to the Hitler regime.)

In his broadcast, Hitler announced a new shift in his commanding officers. He said he had called Col. Gen. Heinz Guderian to be chief of the general staff because the incumbent was forced to "retire for health reasons." Guderian, a tank expert, has been fighting on the Russian front.

Hitler did not name the retired chief of staff but he apparently referred to Col. Gen. Kurt Zeitzler, who was named to the office in December, 1942.

None of the German speakers disclosed the exact hour or even the approximate location of the assassination attempt, but there were indications it may have been at Hitler's own closely-guarded headquarters, since the first DNB news agency broadcast Thursday was datelined in that fashion.

"There seems no doubt that an army revolt is still on and that a state of civil war exists in the Reich," declared "the continental observer" of the British news agency Reuters.

Berlin remained silent as to the fate of high German army officers dismissed from top commands in recent weeks, and precautions were set up to prevent contact with the Allies or flight by plane.

Speaking in angry and strident tones in an unheralded early morning broadcast only a few hours after Berlin announced he had escaped death, Hitler declared:

Fuhrer Places Blame

"At an hour in which the German army is waging a very hard struggle, there has appeared in Germany a very small group similar to that in Italy (apparently a reference to the Italian surrender last Sept. 8) which believed that it could thrust a dagger into our back as it did in 1918. But this time they have made a mistake.

Take a revolt of widespread proportions may have developed among high German officers was indicated by Hitler's words, although he, as well as Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering and Admiral Karl Doenitz, who followed him on the air, all tried to emphasize the dissatisfaction was concentrated in a small group.

Goering, who is topped only by Hitler in the Nazi hierarchy, pointed the finger of retribution directly at the stiff-backed Junkers faction of the German army.

Some London quarters expressed belief the entire affair might be a frame-up to give the Nazis an excuse to purge some German general staff members considered unreliable.

There is considerable suspicion over the fact Berlin prosecutors for six hours had been telling the German people and the world that the attempted assassination was "made by the enemy" before Hitler came out with a flat accusation of his own army officers.

Goering declared the "mean attempt at murder" was organized by "a miserable clique of former generals who had to be chased from their posts for a leadership that was as cowardly as it was incompetent."

Soviet Comment

Last November reports from inside Germany indicated an anti-Nazi group of old line Junkers was awaiting the psychological moment to attempt a coup.

First Soviet reaction broadcast by the Moscow radio was that the attempt on Hitler's life was "only one episode of a widespread conspiracy by a group of German generals and officers." This broadcast said it was considered significant that one German general after another had surrendered in the face of the current Red army offensive without attempting to carry out Hitler's fight-to-the-death order.

Goering decreed that every airplane flight must have the approval either of himself or Himmler—possibly a precaution to prevent any Hess-like flights or forestall any peace emissaries from reaching the Allies.

Miss Knox, Lieut. Harmon Plan Aug. 26 Marriage

HOLLYWOOD, July 21.—Movie Actress Elyse Knox and Lieut. Tom Harmon of the Army Air Forces plan to be married in St. Mary's student chapel in Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 26, they said today.

The date is contingent upon Lieut. Harmon's obtaining leave from his duties as a P-38 instructor.

The former Michigan football star has asked a fellow flier to serve as his best man, he said, but did not disclose his name. Miss Knox will be attended by Harmon's oldest sister, Mrs. Bertram Jensen of Gary, Ind.

REDS CONTROL

miles northeast of Brest Litovsk have been liquidated, and at other points Red army troops are about 10 miles away, front dispatches said.

Soviet columns were within 50 miles of Lublin, which is about 75 miles southwest of Brest Litovsk.

The German radio said Russian troops had reached Augustow in the northern sector, only a two-hour march from East Prussia.

Marshal Stalin apparently crossed up the Nazi high command by unleashing the drive west of Kovel toward Warsaw after his troops had forced the Nazis to transfer numerous divisions to the Niemen river sector for the anticipated all-out attack on East Prussia.

The new blows have shoved the front between Lwow and Brest Litovsk another 30 to 40 miles nearer Warsaw and Germany itself.

BRICKER TO VISIT DEWEY NEXT WEEK

COLUMBUS, July 21.—Gov. John W. Bricker, Republican nominee for vice president, said today he would go to Albany next week to confer with Thomas E. Dewey, the party's standard bearer. The exact date for his visit will be arranged today, Bricker added.

The governor talked yesterday with Herbert Brownell, national Republican chairman, and spent last night "listening to and enjoying" a broadcast of the Democratic convention at Chicago.

He said he had been invited to address party conventions in Michigan and Vermont, but could not accept until he knew more definitely what his plans would be during the next few weeks.

honorary organizations. He was an expert tennis player and gave private lessons in Salem several years.

The Salem pilot enlisted in the Air Corps in May, 1942, before his graduation, and was later sent to the classification center in Nashville, Tenn. He received his primary training at Avon Park, Fla., and was sent to Cochran field, Macon, Ga., for basic training.

At the completion of his basic training, Lieut. Brian received advanced training at Moody field and won his wings there. Later he was trained at Central Instructors school, Randolph field, San Antonio, Texas, and was assigned as a flight instructor for twin engine planes at Turner field.

Planned Visit Soon

He spent a weekend leave with his parents and friends here a month ago, having flown from Texas, and told his parents in a letter received yesterday that he would be home on leave next Tuesday.

Surviving, besides his parents, is a brother, Albert Otis Brian of Detroit.

Funeral service will be held in Salem but definite arrangements have not been made. The Army notification told his parents arrangements for shipment of the body would be made as they desired, with a military escort.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS . . .

"I don't blame the fellows overseas for gettin' all het up over it, Judge. For the likes of me I can't see what's all the hurry about holdin' these local prohibition elections while they're away."

"I agree with you, Steve. Time after time . . . in their letters, in articles, in polls taken to get the views of our fighting men . . . they have indicated in unmistakable terms that they don't want any action taken on prohibition, either local or national, until they get back."

"Too bad there isn't a law or somethin' to be sure their wishes are carried out, Judge."

"There is in one state I know of, Steve. Just recently it passed a law prohibiting the calling of any prohibition election until a year after the peace is declared."

"That really makes sense to me, Judge."

which established a record tonnage of 1,000 tons, was reported to have been destroyed by the Japanese shore defenses and drove the Navy from the beach.

Admiral Nimitz earlier reported that the Navy had been driven from the beach as a result of coordinated aerial bombing and shellings by surface ships.

The number of ground forces landed was not reported, but it is estimated that the operation was comparable to the landing of the Second and Fourth Marine Divisions and the 7th Army Division, which required 25 days to seize the island.

Rear Admiral Richard L. Conolly, who commanded the amphibious force at Saipan and Salerno and directed the conquest of Roi and Namur in the northern Kwajalein area, is directing the amphibious operations against Guam.

He is rated one of the ablest and most successful naval officers in the Pacific. He was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for his leadership in the Saipan operations.

WFA TO ALLOCATE NEW WHEAT SUPPLY

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The War Food Administration announced today it will allocate this year's wheat supply even though the current domestic crop outlook is the best in the nation's history.

WFA said that while the 1944-45 wheat supply probably would exceed 1,500,000,000 bushels which not only should meet all essential requirements for this crop year but also should provide a substantial carryover as a protection against possibilities of shorter supplies next year. Last year's carry-over, as of July 1, 1944, was 350,000,000 bushels.

Wheat estimates July 1 indicated a harvest of 1,128,000,000 bushels compared with 836,000,000 bushels last year. The largest previous harvest in 1915 slightly exceeded 1,000,000,000 bushels.

A blood derivative known as Gamma Globulin will be made available soon to individuals for prevention or modification of measles. The serum is a byproduct of serum albumin derived from blood.

WALLACE, TRUMAN

The people would have to decide, he said, "whether they wish to turn over this 1944 job—this world-wide job—to inexperienced and immature hands." This was the closest he came to mentioning his 42-year-old Republican opponent, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

The President, who has given the nod to three potential running mates—Vice President Wallace, 60-year-old Truman, chairman of the senate's War Investigating committee, and 45-year-old Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas—said nothing more about the second place contest. But the inference was broad that the No. 2 man must carry the political load.

Wary delegates elbowing into the stadium for their final session found Wallace, always a shock of unruly hair hanging over his right eye, personally leading a crusading battle for what he termed "liberalism" and his own renomination.

Behind the scenes well-trained CIO members hacked away at opposition strength in state delegations under the direction of Sidney Hillman, the labor organization's political action chairman.

Lined up behind Truman were National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan and such big city organization chieftains as Edward J. Flynn, New York national committeeman, Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City and Mayor Edward Kelly of Chicago.

South Backs Truman
The Truman camp also had southern backing, incited in part by Wallace's demand in a surprise Roosevelt nomination seconding speech yesterday that the party stand for equal voting and educational opportunity for the races, kill off the poll tax.

Arkansas' 20, Louisiana's 22 and Missouri's 32 votes definitely were Truman's on the first ballot, in addition to any that organization leaders might be able to produce. Wallace had 316½ claimed and pledged of the 583 needed to nominate.

Senate Majority Leader Barkley had Kentucky's 24 votes and unestimated strength elsewhere. Sen. Scott Lucas, looked upon as a probable Kelly-backed darkhorse if Truman could not make it, was supported by Illinois' 58.

The vice president's backers took in stride the disclosure yesterday by Hannegan of a "Dear Bob" letter from Mr. Roosevelt which said the President would be "very glad to run" with either Truman or Douglas and expressed the belief that either of them would bring strength to the ticket.

End Controversies

The convention washed up most of its controversies yesterday, adopting a platform which paralleled the President's declaration on foreign policy but contained a disputed plank declaring "racial and religious minorities have the right to live, develop and vote equally with all citizens."

Some southerners didn't like this and a part of the turbulent Texas delegation walked out. But even there, the sentiment for President Roosevelt's renomination was so strong several remained.

The convention made short shrift of the anti-fourth term movement, giving Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia only 89 votes, with a single recorded for James A. Farley, who once was Mr. Roosevelt's No. 1 political strategist.

Farley was silent about this result but told reporters he intends to support Barkley for the vice presidential nomination.

POTTERS TO HOLD AUG. 2 DISCUSSION

EAST LIVERPOOL, July 21.—The United States Potters' association today called a general membership meeting at the East Liverpool Country club Aug. 2 to discuss proposals submitted by the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters for inclusion of a new wage contract, replacing a two-year agreement, expiring Sept. 30.

Pottery owners are expected to draft counter propositions and suggest a time and place for a conference with Brotherhood representatives. This session usually is held in mid-August in the east. Union proposals involving 18,000 workers were drafted at the brotherhood's 51st annual convention in June at Atlantic City.

2,500 U. S. PLANES BOMB REICH AGAIN

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, July 21.—Around 2,500 American planes bombed the heart of Germany today, with 2,000 flying above a howling channel storm for attacks on Regensburg and Schweinfurt and another 500 from Italy penetrating within 125 miles of Berlin.

It was the fourth consecutive day of massive, coordinated American attacks on Germany from the west and south.

More than 1,100 American heavy bombers flew from Britain, convoyed by nearly 800 fighters from the U. S. Eighth air force, the largest number of fighters from the force ever to take the air at one time. Scores of enemy aircraft were seen, but most kept a respectful distance. Other targets, beside Regensburg and Schweinfurt, were bombed but not immediately named. Enroute home, some fighters dipped low to strafe rail targets.

Targets of the Italy-based bombers were at Brux in Sudetenland, the mountainous border province which Germany stole from Czechoslovakia in the Munich conference which prefaced the war. Brux is northeast of Praha (Prague), the Czech capital, and the flight entailed a 1,400-mile roundtrip.

The Germans used a defensive smoke screen, compelling the Liberators and Fortresses to bomb by instrument.

DEATHS

MRS SARAH BRANNAN

Mrs. Sarah Brannan, widow of James Brannan, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Oscar Schwyl, in Cleveland, at 7:30 a. m. Thursday following several months' illness.

A sister of the late Mrs. George Robison, she was formerly a resident of Salem. She was a member of the Cleveland Presbyterian church.

She is survived by her daughter, a son, Alfred; two grandsons, and two brothers, Homer and Thomas Woodward of Kensington.

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday in charge of Rev. C. F. Evans at the Arbaugh-Pearce Funeral home. Burial will be in Hope cemetery.

Parcels to Soldiers Overseas Should Be Carefully Wrapped

Thousands of parcels addressed to members of the armed forces overseas are received in the New York postoffice in a broken or torn condition due to improper packing, says Postmaster A. E. Beardmore of the Salem postoffice, in a warning to local citizens preparing packages for distribution overseas.

Postoffice clerks have been cautioned against accepting parcels for overseas points unless they are properly packed.

Beardmore suggests that packages be wrapped either in boxes of metal, wood, solid fiberboard or strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard. Each box should be securely sealed with strong gummed paper tape or tied with strong twine, or both and should contain sufficient cushioning material to prevent any rattling or loosening of the articles within the parcel.

No matches of any kind can be shipped because of danger of fire or explosions.

Canton Officer and Army Nurse Married In Rome

(By Associated Press)
ROME, July 21.—Maj. Charles W. Kruck of 926 High ave., Canton, O., and Lt. Mary Ellen Kiechle of Groveport, O., were married in a civil ceremony in Rome yesterday, followed by a wedding at the English Methodist church last night.

Lieutenant Kiechle is an army nurse. Maj. Kruck is operations officer for a Thunderbolt group and has to his credit the destruction of an enemy submarine. He holds the Air medal.

At the night ceremony the bride was given in marriage by Lt. Col. Frank F. Shade of Los Angeles, hospital commander. Lt. Jane Tupacz of Schenectady, N. Y., was the maid of honor and Maj. Don Foster of Spartansburg, S. C., was the best man.

Mildred Harris, Silent Screen Star, Dead at 41

HOLLYWOOD, July 21.—Death in comparative obscurity has taken Mildred Harris, one of the silent screen's most beautiful and highly-paid actresses and a link with the opulent Hollywood of the gold-dock and expansive swimming pool era.

Miss Harris, 41, a native of Cheyenne, Wyo., died yesterday of complications following an abdominal operation. She had so far faded from the public eye that few knew she had resumed her screen career about five years ago and had been steadily employed as a bit player, where once she was a reigning star adored by millions.

Miss Harris was the first wife of Comedian Charles Chaplin.

U. S. Italian Casualties To Date Total 73,166

WASHINGTON, July 21.—American army casualties in Italy from the time of the landings last September to July 12 totaled 73,166. Acting Secretary of War Patterson reported today. This was an increase of 2,767 for one week.

The death list now stands at 12,999, an increase of 344 for the week; the wounded at 49,561, an increase of 2,104. There are 10,606 missing.

Jap Police Force Quits At Tule Lake Reservation

TULE LAKE, Calif., July 21.—The entire Japanese police force at the Tule Lake segregation center has resigned after receiving a series of anonymous threats.

War relocation authority officials said the group in quitting yesterday claimed it had not received cooperation from fellow-evacuees in the camp for disloyal Japanese.

Von Kluge Calls For Loyalty of German Soldiers In France

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, July 21.—The German radio said tonight that Field Marshal Gen. Guenther Von Kluge in an order of the day to his French command underlined what he called the "absolute necessity for loyalty to Hitler."

The text of the order, as reported by the Berlin radio:

"Soldiers of the west: A small clique of retired officers made a mean attempt on the life of our Fuehrer. The Fuehrer is alive. He spoke to the German people and to German soldiers last night.

"The perpetrators have been rendered harmless. Calm and order prevail at home.

"The war effort at home and the fight on the fronts go on. With indignation and bitterness, we soldiers have learned of the plot. For us there will be no repetition of the year 1918 nor repetition of the example set by Italy.

"For us soldiers in the west, there is only one watchword: With inflexible determination and unconditional loyalty to the Fuehrer, we shall bring the fight against the enemy to a victorious conclusion. "Long live the Fuehrer! Long live Germany!"

Von Kluge recently replaced Field Marshal Gen. Karl Von Rundstedt as commander in the west.

Too Many for Hitler

LAWRENCE, Mass. — The Lawrence Tribune suggests that a German Paul Revere will have to take a long breath and shout "The British, Yanks, Russians, French, Aussies, Canadians, Indians, Dutch, Poles, Belgians, Senegalese and Serbs are coming!"

Members In Service Are Honored by Perry Grange

Jim's Defeat Mullins, 4-1, As Sheens Down Paxsons, 4-2

MULLINS DROP TO THIRD AND PAXSONS LAST

Jim's and Sheens' Climb In League Standing, Tied for Fifth

Four runs proved to be the victors mark in Class A softball at Centennial park yesterday as Mullins defeated 4-1 by Jim's and Sheens won 4-2 over Paxsons.

The defeat marked the second loss of the round for Mullins and eliminated them from immediate third round chances by putting them back in third place, one game behind the Recreation.

Paxsons, by virtue of their loss, took over the bottom of the list with four losses and one win. Sheens proved a little tough for the Paxsons as Francis Lanney, getting back into his early season pace, limited them to three hits. Dick Hahn added Sheens' seventh hit, and his teammates committed four errors.

Tie Broken In Sixth
The initial runs came in the first and second innings, both teams getting a marker. In the fifth each team scored once and it was a 2-2 tie as the sixth started. In the sixth Sheens came through with a pair of tallies that proved the winning margin. Paxsons threatened in their last two innings but poor base running cost them scoring chances.

Mullins dropped the game to Jim's by exhibiting a lack of hitting power when the runners were on the sacks. On several occasions the factory men had the tying runs on the bags but couldn't bring them around.

In the first inning Mullins scored on a pair of hits to take the lead. Jim's rallied in the second to tie it up and went ahead two runs in the third. Another marker in the last frame, after two men were out, made the total.

Recreation-China Battle At Park Looms As "Battle Of Year"; Both Teams Ready

ATHLETICS PLAY POTTERS AT 6:30

Salem Baseballers On Road Today To Seek Sixth Win Of Year

Still after their sixth win of the year, the Salem Athletics will visit East Liverpool's Patterson field at 6:30 p. m. today in an attempt to post another win over the All-City Red Sox—a team they defeated here three weeks ago.

Since losing in Warren Sunday the Athletics battled to an 11-1 tie with the Columbiana Clippers here Wednesday in a contest that was called in the eighth inning because of darkness.

Slated to start against Liverpool tonight is Walt Smith on the mound for the Athletics, and "Dutch" Taubler on the receiving end. The regular team will be somewhat altered in lineup today because several of the regulars are staying in Salem to take part in the China-Recreation softball battle.

Liverpool has lost but one game this season and has posted five wins. Salem downed the Red Sox on their visit here in an extra-inning game.

The road game today will be the last for the Athletics for several games. Sponsor C. S. Chisholm said today. Sunday the Canton Spikers play here and two home contests are booked next week. The Athletics still have two games to be played off, one with the Columbiana team and another with Warren.

League Leaders To Meet Second-Place Old Timers at 6 Tonight

A lot of Salem softball fans are saying these days that the time is ripe for the Salem China—unbeaten in 17 tries this season—to be knocked out of the perfect rank, and most of the fans agree that if anyone can do it, the Recreation is the most likely team.

Looking at the picture from all angles—and now is a good time, because the pair face each other in the 6 p. m. battle at the park today—it would appear that the Old Timers are about due for a win over the league leaders.

The old saying about everything to gain and nothing to lose is on the side of the Recs in today's game, as they can win themselves into a chance for third round honors by defeating the Potters tonight and if they lose—they still will be in the league's second or third position.

Of course, in all considerations of the China power, Dale Ritchie figures as the big "if". The speedball expert hasn't been beaten this year and on top of all that he is the leading hitter on the Pottery crew right now.

To face Ritchie, who has already beaten them twice this year, the Recs are planning to use Bill Pauline. Though new to the league this season, Pauline turned the trick of downing Ritchie twice last season and pitched the Old Timers into the city championship doing it.

Figures show that in two games against Ritchie this year the Recreation has totaled six hits. Both games were extra inning affairs, the first going 11 frames and the second eight. In the first try, the Recs led 1-0 until the last of the seventh inning, when Ritchie's squad tied it up and went on to win in the eleventh, 3-1. That run is the only one the Recs have scored against the Potters.

The second game, about a month ago, saw the China blanked for seven innings—by again, they came through with three runs to beat the Old Timers in an extra frame, 3-0.

Another comparison shows the China to be playing better defensive ball than the Recs. In the two tests the Potters committed but one miscue while the Recs made five.

A comparison of hitting power—based on batting averages—shows that the Old Timers are normally a more powerful club at the plate than the Potters. All ten of the Rec starters are batting .20 or better and two of those are hitting better than any member of the Pottery crew. Charlie Huffer, league leading hitter, is batting .415, and Shorty Borton is knocking them around at a .357 pace.

The best hitter the Pottery boasts is Dale Ritchie with his .333. Besides Ritchie, there are six other Potters above the .200 mark.

Joe Kelley, manager of the Recreation outfit, said today he feels sure "tonight is the night to beat the China." On the other side of the ledger is John Ehrhart, China manager, who says he realizes his team has been lucky in some cases, but he is sure they will emerge victorious in the third round clash today.

HOWDYS CAPTURE CLASS B CONTEST

Other Junior Loop Fray Goes To Athletics On Forfeit

In a Class B slugfest, which ended 13-10, the Howdys' aggregation chucked up a thrilling win over the hard-hitting Rams.

The second game, slated to be played between the Zions and the Athletics, was forfeited when the Zion team failed to appear.

Three big runs in the final inning made the winning margin for Howdys as the Ram rally of two runs fell short of the mark.

Two New Hurlers, Plus Bagby, Seem To End Boudreau's Worry

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, July 21.—Jim Bagby's return to the Cleveland Indians after a brief venture in the Merchant Marine and the development of a pair of prize freshmen apparently have erased Manager Lou Boudreau's pitching problems. Ed Kileman and Steve Gromek, the two recruits, combined to win 39 games for Baltimore's International league club last year, and their work in recent games has elevated them to the position of starters.

Gromek proved his 14-inning triumph over the St. Louis Browns last Friday was no accident by hurling a five-hit 2 to 1 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday.

The tall pole had to be that good because Luman Harris gave the Indians only seven bolls. The Indians collected both their runs in the seventh. The Athletics' only tally was produced in the fourth.

Commissioner!

Columbus Man Named To Fill Job Left Vacant by Townsend Death

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, July 21.—Harold W. Emswiler, principal of Columbus Central High school, yesterday was named Ohio High School Athletic commissioner.

The Ohio High School Athletic board of control selected him from 15 candidates for the $6,000-a-year post. Emswiler succeeds the late H. R. Townsend, who died early in June and was the state's first scholastic athletic commissioner.

Emswiler said he was resigning immediately the principalship he has held for nine years. "It would be foolish," the new commissioner asserted last night, "for anyone to think he could step into Townsend's shoes and carry on the way he did for the past 19 years."

"I'll do my best, and with the cooperation of the board of control we'll try to keep Ohio High school athletics on the same high plane they were during Townsend's regime."

Emswiler is a graduate of Denison and Ohio State universities, obtaining his master's degree from the latter school. While a student at Denison he coached football, basketball and baseball at Doane academy, in addition to teaching in that school.

For the past 10 years he has been secretary-treasurer of the Ohio Football Officials' association, and since Townsend's death he had helped in the commissioner's office.

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The big feature of the 1944 football season may be the rise of Army teams and the decline of those Navy powerhouses that have ruled the roost for the past couple of years.

The colleges won't be getting so much good Navy-Marine material and the pre-flight schools won't be much better off than the colleges. But reports trickling in here say you can expect some high-powered stuff from the four Army Air force teams at Charlotte, N. C., Colorado Springs, Randolph field, Tex., and March Field, Calif.

Dispute Over "Spit Ball" Gets Into American Race

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
Shades of 1920 descended on the current American league pennant race today as the old "spit ball" argument was dragged into the first place struggle between the St. Louis Browns and the New York Yankees.

Claiming Pitcher Nelson Potter had been tossing "spitters," Umpire Cal Hubbard gave the Browns starter the heave-ho in the fifth inning of a 6-0 ball game last night after a prolonged argument with Manager Luke Sewall that brought a shower of pop bottles and hats. Since 1920 all such freak deliveries have been banned except for a list

ATTENTION—
 This ad is addressed to a man who is concerned about his future security. He may be too old for industry or you aged exempt from military service. Perhaps his income is uncertain or inadequate to meet present day demands. He may be discouraged, but if he has good references and a car, there is a possibility of his qualifying for better than average earnings.
 He should forward full personal history to Box 316, Letter L, Salem, O. This notice will not appear again.

YOUR CHANCE—I operate a congenial business which produces a fine income. After the war it will continue to provide me with a good living. I am the boss and choose my own working hours.
 An automobile is my only investment. My business is not for sale, but I will give you some valuable information. Mr. J. W. Spencer, 225 W. Washington St., Lisbon, Ohio.

"CALAMITY TOWN" by ELLERY-QUEEN

CHAPTER TWENTY-FIVE

Patrolman Brady later told reporters at the Courthouse: "Seemed like Haight just caved in. You could just see the fella sort of fold up like a contraption. I says to Dick Gobbin: 'Better take that side of him, Dick, he's gonna collapse,' but Jim Haight, he just made a kind of shoving motion at Dick and I'll be doggone if he don't start to laugh! An' he says, so you could hardly hear him through the laughin', he says: 'Don't tell my wife.' And he comes along nice and quiet. Now wasn't that a crazy thing for a fella to say who's just been arrested for murder? 'Don't tell my wife.' Facin' a murder rap an' thinkin' of sparin' his wife's feelin's! How could anybody keep it from her anyway? Don't tell my wife! I tell you the fella's a nut."

All Patrolman Gobbin said was: "Spell it: G-o-o-b-b-i-n. That's right, fella. This'll give my kids a real kick!"

Two days after Jim's arrest, Hermione Wright called a council of war. She closed the upstairs drawing-room doors with a grim bang. It was Sunday, and the family had just returned from church.

"The question," began Hermie, "is what to do."

"Is what to do, Muth?" asked Pat tiredly.

"Milo," Hermie took Doc Willoughby's big puffy hand. "I want you to tell us the truth. How is Nora?"

"She's a sick girl, Hermie, a very sick girl."

Hermie patted his big hand absently. "Then there's no question of what we've got to do. We must all of us get behind Jim and fight for him!"

"When he's ruined Nora's life?" protested John F. "He's been bad luck to her from the day he came to Wrightsville!"

"John," Hermie's voice was steel-lined. "Nora wants it that way and, for her health's sake, she's got to have it that way. So it's going to be that way."

"All right," John F. almost shouted. Then he subsided, muttering, "And another thing, Nora mustn't know."

"Mustn't know what?" demanded Pat.

"That we don't mean it," Hermie's eyes began to redden up. "Oh, that man! If Nora weren't his wife—"

Doc Willoughby said: "So you think he's guilty, Hermione?"

"Think! If I'd known about those three horrible letters, that medical book—"

"He should be shot!" interjected John F.

"Maybe I'm crazy," Lola snapped. "But I find myself feeling sorry for Jim, and I don't usually spare any sympathy for murderers."

"Eli, what's your opinion?" asked Hermie.

Judge Martin's sleepy face was grave as he intoned, "I don't know what young Bradford's got in the way of evidence. It's a highly circumstantial case. But, on the other hand, there's not a single fact I know of to cast doubt on the circumstances. I'd say Jim is in for a rough time."

"Took generations to build up the Wright name," mumbled John F., "and one day to tear it down!"

"There's been enough damage done already," sighed Pat. "When your own family runs out on you—"

"What's this?" demanded Lola. "Aunt Tabitha, Lo. I thought you knew. She's closed up her house and gone to Los Angeles for a visit to Cousin Sophy's."

"That Zombie still around?" said Hermione.

"You can't blame her so much, Hermie," remarked John F. feebly. "You know how she hates scandal—"

"I know I shan't run away, John! Nobody in this town's going to see me with my head hanging."

"That's what I told Clarice," chuckled Judge Martin. Then he rubbed his dry cheeks. "Clarice would have come, Hermione, only—"

"I understand," said Hermie quietly. "Bless you for standing by us, Eli, you, and Milo, and you, Mr. Smith. You more than any one."

After all, Judge Martin and Dr. Willoughby are life long friends. But you're practically a stranger to us, and Patricia's told me how loyal you've been—"

Ellery looked uncomfortable. "Please! I'll help all I can."

Hermie said in a low voice: "Bless you. But if you decide to leave Wrightsville—"

"I'm afraid I couldn't even if I wanted to," smiled Ellery. "The Judge will tell you I'm practically an accessory to the crime."

"Suppressing evidence," frowned Judge Martin. "Dakin will have the hounds after you if you try to run away, Smith."

Pat's hand stole into Ellery's and squeezed, hard.

"Then if we all understand one another," declared Hermione in a firm tone, "we're going to hire the best lawyer in the state to defend Jim."

"And if Jim's found guilty?" asked Pat quietly.

"We'll have done our best, dear. In the long run, such a verdict, hard as it seems, would be the best solution to our problem—"

"What a cruel thing to say!" interjected Lola. "Mother, that's not right or fair. You say that because you're convinced Jim's guilty. 'Best solution'—bah!"

"Let's not quarrel," suggested Pat wearily.

"And if Jim's acquitted," said Hermie stiffly. "I'm going to insist that Nora divorce him."

"Now Hermie, that's not right," declared Judge Martin.

"I mean he's not the right man for my Nora," said Hermie. "He's brought her nothing but grief. Nora will divorce that man if I've got anything to say about it!"

Lola kissed her mother on the cheek. Ellery heard Pat gasp, and guessed that history had just been made.

"You old Trojan!" laughed Lola. "When you get there you'll insist on running Heaven. Imagine—you urging a divorce! And she added grimly: 'Why didn't you feel that way about my divorce from Claude?'"

"This isn't . . . the same," said Hermie, embarrassed, and promptly changed the subject by saying to Judge Martin: "We'll need an extra-fine lawyer for Jim, Eli. Whom can you suggest?"

"Will I do?" asked Judge Martin. John F. was startled. "Eli! You?"

"But Uncle Eli," protested Pat, "I thought—it's your court—I thought you'd have to sit—"

"In the first place," said the old jurist dryly, "that's not possible. I'm involved. I was present on the scene of the crime. I am known to have strong ties with the Wright family. Legally and ethically, I can't sit on this case." He shook his head. "Jim will be tried before Judge Newbold. He's a complete outsider."

"But you haven't pleaded a case in fifteen years, Eli," observed John F. suspiciously.

"Of course, if you're afraid I won't do—"

"I forgot to mention that I'm retiring from the bench, so—"

You old fraud!" growled Dr. Willoughby. "John, Eli's quitting the bench just to defend this case!"

"Nonsense," said the Judge gruffly. "Don't go getting any sentimental ideas. Was going to retire anyway. Old Has-been Martin. If you want a has-been in your corner, we won't say any more about it."

Hermie burst into tears.

The next morning Pat rapped on Ellery's door and he opened it to find her dressed for the street.

"Nora wants to see you."
